

Belarusian State University of Informatics and Radioelectronics
R&D Department

Results of the University's participation in the Chinese International Exhibition of Import «China International Import Expo»

Exhibition “China International Import Expo” took place on November 5 - 10, 2023 in Shanghai, China. The exhibition is the largest and the most significant exhibition event in the World. Traditionally, the exhibition was held under the patronage of the Chairman of the People’s Republic of China Xi Jinping.

At the exhibition, BSUIR demonstrated advanced technologies in the field of electromagnetic compatibility of radioelectronic devices and electromagnetic safety of population, as well as technologies for the manufacture of new functional materials, used in the energy industry and automotive industry. The developments presented provoked interest in the specialists of a number of Chinese companies, engaged in the electrotechnical, radioelectronic, and machine tool industries.

Negotiations were held on possible beneficial cooperation, three protocols of intentions were signed, an agreement reached to continue communication and negotiation with the specialists of Chinese companies via electronic communication channels.

Based on the results of participation in the exhibition, BSUIR was awarded a diploma for active participation.

